

Misconduct Types and Sanctions Table

Unacceptable behaviour is not limited to the examples stated below. Any student(s) can be referred to the Misconduct Procedures should their conduct not be in accordance with <a href="https://www.heart.com/

| | Misconduct Type | Examples of unacceptable behaviour | Examples of Sanctions and conditions |
|----------------------|-----------------|--|--|
| | Physical | f Physical misconduct not resulting in (or expected to result in) injury, such as pushing, shoving, and pulling of hair. f Physical misconduct that started as 'play' or 'rough housing'. | x Written/verbal warning. |
| | Sexual | f Making unwanted remarks of a sexual nature. f Non-verbal harassment e.g., sending unwanted emails or me1.04 -0 088a (g)21.5 (e1.0 cas)30.8r<616.T6 | x Recommendation to attend RVC Support Services. (m)-5.9 (ai)i7616.T6 (m535(ai)n1.5 (e1.<6571 2.1 (e)21.6 (m)-21.6 |
| | | | x Written/ verbal apology. |
| , 0 | | f | |
| | | | |
| | | | |
| ה ב ב | | | |
| Vlinor infringements | | | |

Major infringements

Misconduct Type Examples of unacceptable behaviour Examples of Sanctions and conditions

Physical

^{*}Definition: Having a protected characteristics means you have the right not to be treated less favourable or subjected to an unfair advantage by reason of that characteristics for example, because of race, gender, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion or belief, disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity or civil partnership.